HealthAsyst enters into partnership with GE Healthcare

12 February 2018 | News

With this partnership, CheckinAsyst, the patient check-in solution offered by HealthAsyst, is available for users of GE Healthcare's Centricity Practice Solution and Centricity Group Management.

HealthAsyst, a healthcare technology solutions provider, has announced a partnership with GE Healthcare through GE Healthcare's Centricity Partner Program. The program aims to partner with organizations offering cutting-edge solutions that effectively complement GE Healthcare's solutions. With this partnership, CheckinAsyst, the patient check-in solution offered by HealthAsyst, is available for users of GE Healthcare's Centricity Practice Solution and Centricity Group Management.

CheckinAsyst is designed to improve practice productivity and revenue collection while delivering a convenient, self-service patient check-in experience. With robust bi-directional integration with Centricity Practice Solution and Centricity Group Management, CheckinAsyst has the ability to update the GE Healthcare systems with discrete data digitally captured during patient check-in, after an efficient validation process by the provider. The option for patients to remotely complete pre-registration via mobile or a computer will transform the way patient intake functions today.

HealthAsyst has been providing innovative solutions to the global healthcare industry since 1999. It has a strong track record of successful products and services engagements across the healthcare industry spectrum.