ZOYLO, online healthcare platform has launched a unique initiative 'Zoycare', to bring preventive healthcare services to the people of Delhi on the move. Zoylo Digihealth Pvt. Ltd. in association with the Delhi Metro has launched "health kiosks" at two key metro stations - IIT and INA metro stations with proposed expansion plans to cover more stations soon. This health kiosks would give metro passengers quick access to diagnostic services, vital health check-ups and other preventive healthcare services. This launch brings Zoylo a step closer to its mission of making healthcare accessible to all.

Well trained and experienced medical technicians at Zoycare health kiosks offer on the spot health check-ups and also facilitate services like medicine orders, pathology tests, online doctor consultations, home healthcare services and more for metro passengers. Based on the health check-up results, Zoycare team provides a predictive health analysis report and can further guide/offer the users to take necessary steps like doctor consultations, wellness services and treatment plans. This is a great move towards preventive healthcare for Delhiites, who being busy in their fast-paced life, keep postponing their healthcare needs.

Vinod Kumar Reddy, CEO, Zoylo Healthcare said, "In today's hectic life, our health usually takes a back seat. A busy schedule makes it difficult to go for a health check-up and a person keeps postponing till it is too late! People usually consult a doctor only when there is a medical issue that gives them discomfort and delays right on time treatment. Over 25 lakh passengers use the Delhi Metro every day and Zoycare will offer them a convenient option to take charge of their health again. Zoylo Health Kiosks will help in early detection and diagnosis of many of the non-communicable diseases like diabetes, thyroid, cardiovascular disease, vitamin & mineral deficiencies at an early stage. This early diagnosis will definitely help people to seek on time treatment and stay healthy."

ZOYLO is an online healthcare platform that connects users to the entire spectrum of healthcare services creating a resourceful ecosystem of service providers and the users. Dedicated to extend the horizons of healthcare facilities and services beyond regional limitations and make it accessible to all under one roof, it stands as a synonym for healthcare digitalisation.
