Making compliance right for the pharma industry

21 November 2019 | News

A unique knowledge series called â??Achieving Complianceâ? was organized for stakeholders in Indiaâ??s Pharmaceutical value chain by Cole-Parmer India at Bengaluru

Pharmaceutical companies globally function in one of the most dynamic environments. Changes in norms from international regulatory bodies encourage Pharmaceutical corporations to adapt their processes and practices to conform to the stringent regulations.

Keeping in mind the direct impact on revenue and brand value, leading Pharma, Bio-Pharma & Life science companies today have begun identifying quality issues before they affect the production. Implementation of compliance management practices have become a routine within organizations in order to maintain parity with the changes in requirements.

In order to drive this futuristic thought of change and compliance management a unique knowledge series called “Achieving Compliance” was organized for stakeholders in India’s Pharmaceutical value chain by Cole-Parmer India at Bengaluru. The knowledge series encompassed an outside perspective by an industry veteran Dr. Nishodh Saxena, Managing Director, Pharma Knowledge Center on how compliance is viewed in the Pharmaceutical sector.

Several live cases covering, concern areas, impact & cost of non-compliance, data integrity among others was discussed during the knowledge series. Being the preferred solutions provider for the Pharmaceutical industry, Cole-Parmer India has consistently strived to provide compliant solutions in the Fluid handling, Critical Consumables and Laboratory Equipment’s segments.

Keeping up with the tradition of consistency in delivering quality, combined with the latest, hard-to-find products and value-added services, Cole-Parmer looks forward to delivering an exciting range solutions including the comprehensive range of Masterflex® pumps which also includes 21 CFR, Clean room solutions, Powered Air Purifying Respirator (PAPR), IoT Solutions and range of latex gloves among others.

Speaking at the “Achieving Compliance” event, Piyush Jain, Director-Sales & Marketing, Cole-Parmer said, “The Pharmaceutical Industry is constantly evolving and we as proud partners also need to adapt and contribute more to help the industry to cope with change. We hope key initiatives like this will have a positive impact and will also be appreciated by our valued customers. I believe our comprehensive solutions & services in the Fluid handling, Critical Consumables and Laboratory Equipment’s categories coupled with the new launches can help us deliver more value to our customers and the Pharmaceutical industry move forward.”
