

Indian Academy of Diabetes honours Dr V Mohan and Dr R.M. Anjana

04 February 2020 | News

Dr. V Mohan and Dr. R.M. Anjana are honored for their significant contribution to the field of Diabetology

Dr. Anjana Receiving the Young Innovators Award by the World India Diabetes Foundation from Prof. Robert Eckel of University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus, Prof. K. Sreekumaran Nair of Mayo clinic & Dr. Shashank Joshi - Endocrinologist, Mumbai

Dr. V. Mohan, Chairman of Dr. Mohan's Diabetes Specialties Centre and President of Madras Diabetes Research Foundation And Dr. R. M. Anjana, Managing Director of Dr. Mohan's Diabetes Specialties Centre and Vice-President of Madras Diabetes Research Foundation was recently conferred with "Lifetime Achievement Award" and "Young Innovators Award" respectively by the Indian Academy of Diabetes at their Annual conference held at Mumbai.

The award was presented by Proff Robert Eckel, President of the American diabetes Association to Dr. Mohan.

The Lifetime Achievement Award was presented to recognize Dr. Mohan's outstanding service to the cause of diabetes in India and his pioneering work in the field of Diabetology.

Dr. Mohan has contributed over 1250 research papers in prestigious journals and text books of diabetes which is considered a world record by practicing doctor. The award was presented to Dr. Anjana for her outstanding work in the field of diabetes.

Dr. Anjana has published over 200 research papers and has innovated a new dance form called "THANDAV" for increasing physical activity especially among adolescent girls in India.

