First ever international seminar on predictive homeopathy in India

07 February 2020 | News

A 10-day event graced by 30 German doctors and new findings were unveiled by Dr. Prafull Vijayakar and the team

In a first-of-its kind initiative, MD doctors from all across Europe are attended a seminar ‘Predictive Homeopathy- International Seminar 2020’, organized by renowned Indian Homeopath Dr. Prafull Vijayakar and his school in Mumbai. The 10-day event, scheduled for 27 th January-7 th Feb 2020, was held at Predictive Homeopathy’s Corporate Office in Khar West. This is the first ever international seminar on predictive homeopathy in India, where not only the new findings from the field were presented, but live cases of patients were taken on stage too.

The event, graced by 30 European doctors, was inaugurated by Dr. Prafull Vijayakar & Dr. Ambrish Vijayakar. In course of the seminar, recent breakthroughs and research carried out by Dr. Prafull Vijayakar and his team were shared with the attendees, that focused on relevance of modern homeopathy treating a wide variety of diseases. One of the largest gathering of European homeopaths in India, this also happens to be the only platform, where live cases were attended and discussed.

Talking about the initiative, Dr. Prafull Vijayakar said, “An age-old method of treatment, homeopathy has also evolved with time and there have been a lot of breakthroughs in the field. Predictive homeopathy in India has reached a height with its findings and research to treat a wide variety of diseases, that needs to be shared with the world as well as patients. This international seminar is an occasion to spread that knowledge in presence of the renowned European homeopaths.”

Predictive Homeopathy by Dr. Prafull Vijayakar is the only school of homeopathy, that has received affiliation from ECPD UN. Besides, it’s also the only school of homeopathy, that assimilates Genetics and embryology. Conducting more than thousands of seminars across the world, the institute is now hosting this kind of an event for the first time in this country.
