

HITLAB announces 7th annual international innovators summit

05 November 2020 | News

HITLAB's annual summit will once again bring together leaders to discuss the development and diffusion of new digital solutions for pressing health issues on December 1, 2, & 3, 2020

HITLAB has announced that the 7th annual Innovators Summit is returning in 2020 as a completely virtual event. HITLAB's 2020 Innovators Summit will be a unique, international, twenty-four-hour, three-day digital health showcase, delivered to your personal office on December 1st, 2nd, and 3rd.

This unique event includes three full days of virtual networking sessions, panel interviews, keynote addresses from industry leaders such as Merck, Johnson & Johnson, Novartis and many more. Each featured event is carefully curated for engaging an international audience of digital health experts.

HITLAB is pleased to introduce an international consortium of event sponsors and knowledge partners, reflective of the broad community of digital health experts and enthusiasts who will be attending the event.

Joining the 2020 HITLAB Innovators Summit are Merck Global Health Innovation Fund, Livongo, Jacobs Technion-Cornell Institute at Cornell Tech, Ellipsis Health, Rock Health, New York City Economic Development Corporation \(NYC EDC\), and the Canadian Technology Accelerators \(CTA\), a global initiative led by the Government of Canada's Trade Commissioner Service that launched its 2020 cohort of digital health innovators.

The 2020 Innovators Summit will welcome distinguished speakers from the World Health Organization, Merck, Novartis, Johnson & Johnson, Columbia Business School, IIT Delhi, SUNY Downstate, Cornell Tech, Ministry of Health & Family Welfare – Government of India, Ellipsis Health, Rock Health and many more.