Spread across 11,500 sq ft, it will also be the one of the first IVF lab with class 100 OT & laminar air flow to provide superior clean air for embryos

Apollo fertility, a part of the Apollo Health & Lifestyle and Apollo Hospitals group, has launched one of the biggest standalone, state-of-the-art fertility centre in Mumbai, bringing a ray of hope to couples who are unable to conceive naturally. Spread across 11,500 sq ft, it will also be the one of the first IVF lab with class 100 OT and laminar air flow to provide superior clean air for embryos.

Located at Borivali, this is Apollo Fertility's 13th unit of the brand. A trained team of clinicians and embryologists, having a combined experience of more than 6000 IVF cases, will be offering world-class services here.

Apollo Fertility centres, following the mission of Apollo Hospitals, aim to bring fertility treatment of international standards within the reach of every individual.

Like other centres, this centre will have facilities that cater to all sorts of infertility related issues ranging from IUI, ICSI, laparoscopic surgeries including PGS and PGD, to offer all gamut of services under one roof. The highly trained and experienced team of doctors, who are experts on reproductive medicine, are equipped to address both male and female infertility issues.

Speaking on the launch, Chandrasekhar C, CEO, Apollo Health & Lifestyle Limited, said, "We are extremely happy and proud to launch one of the biggest state-of-the art standalone fertility centre in Mumbai. India has become the most sought after destination for all the infertility-related treatments, for the affordable and qualitative treatment that the country is able to provide."
