Prof Rajendra Pratap Gupta will talk on how doctors can leverage digital health tools

Digital healthcare company Practo is organising an interactive webinar for medical professionals, to be led by Prof Rajendra Pratap Gupta. The webinar forms part of Practo's doctors-led, pandemic-focussed educational webinar series, called Practo

Connect. It is scheduled to take place on May 29 from 4.30 pm to 6 pm. The webinar is open to all doctors and healthcare professionals.

Prof Rajendra will guide healthcare professionals on how doctors can leverage technology to transform their practice. He will also interact with healthcare professionals via a Q&A session.

Prof Gupta said, “COVID-19 has affected a major part of our healthcare and has caused a permanent shift in the system. The ways doctors engage with the patients are changing, with the Government of India giving a major push for technology adoption in healthcare. It is the right time for doctors to start preparing for this transition to digital health.”
