Founder Speaks-

"The COVID 19 pandemic changed the entire dynamics of our lives and how we functioned. This led to rising rate of sharing and viewing information over the web and on digital platforms. We witnessed a sharp rise in the total number of people coming on our platform and searching for fitness and nutrition based information. We are witnessing a new breed of fitness enthusiasts who are comfortable in following a hybrid model to meet their fitness goals thus making virtual fitness a key component in the industry. Some of the key trends, that we are seeing are: Artificial Intelligence (AI), Wearable tech and holistic well-being: There is a definite need to focus on our mental health in tandem with physical fitness."
