Founder speaks-

"COVID-19 emphasized the need for a strong primary care ecosystem and whoever is able to give assurance of quality care will win the patient. There has been rapid progress in digital healthcare tools, technologies and public adoption of the same since the pandemic outbreak. It is imperative that the technologies and increasing acceptance of online healthcare platforms are leveraged to build one-stop integrated healthcare services all over India. Connect and Heal has built an end-to-end care continuum integrating in-house doctors, speciality clinics, ambulance networks, diagnostic labs, pharmacies and quality hospitals across major Indian cities. The platform integrates online and offline options such as virtual care as well as in-person support anytime, anywhere whenever needed. Thus, patients are assured of a standardized and always accessible care system wherein they just need to contact the service providers and all their needs are taken care of seamlessly. Connect and Heal is bringing the previously unheard concept of a Healthcare Management Organization to India, something that will enable Indian medical services to match global benchmarks."
