C-CAMP Lab Ventures aims to transfer technologies to select early-stage or aspiring bio entrepreneurs

Centre for Cellular and Molecular Platforms, C-CAMP has inked an MoU with TiE India Angels (TIA), an initiative of TiE global, represented through TiE India Foundation, to kick off an ambitious entrepreneurship cum technology transfer initiative, C-CAMP Lab Ventures.

C-CAMP Lab Ventures aims to transfer C-CAMP's formidable portfolio of cutting-edge, market-ready and translated technologies to select early-stage or aspiring bio entrepreneurs against a significant investment funding of up to Rs 100 lakhs annually from TIA.

The agreement to create this unique translation-entrepreneurship-investor linkage was signed by Dr Taslimarif Saiyed, C-CAMP CEO & Director and Mahavir Pratap Sharma, Chair of TiE India Angels and director at TiE India Foundation.

Selected entrepreneurs from this programme will receive seed funding by TIA as well as handholding and mentorship by C-CAMP to increase their chances of success as bio-businesses.
