Fintech startup Care Fi has launched its unique healthcare supply chain financing platform 'CareCred' for the first time in India. A new financial gateway has been tailored to address the stressing issues of healthcare institutions; that will learn, plan as well as make the payment to the Opex suppliers upfront through a one-stop-payment solution for all hospital consumables and pharmaceuticals.

Care Fi is designed and developed by proficient engineers with core products including invoice discounting and Buy Now Pay Later (BNPL) to help hospitals and pharmacies transact and track the requirements.

Some of the user-friendly features of CareCred include:

- o Digital credit line for healthcare suppliers to ensure liquidity
- o 3-minute approval – BNPL for hospitals/ doctors for frictionless buying of drugs, consumables & critical patient Aids
- o Hassle-free process
- o Structured financing solutions
