Health-tech firm Inovalon's India Development Centre opens in Hyderabad

08 September 2022 | News

Inovalon partners with ANSR, a Bengaluru-based firm, to launch the centre

Inovalon, a provider of cloud-based software solutions empowering data-driven healthcare, has inaugurated its India Development Center (IDC) in Hyderabad. With its global technology team based in the US, Inovalon has formally increased its capacity in India to deliver innovation for its customers.

For the last eight years, Inovalon has contracted an India-based team to work across the Inovalon enterprise, supporting each of its business units in product engineering and information technology. Effective 1 August 2022, these team members are now fully employed by Inovalon, and the IDC is now the largest single engineering office at Inovalon.

Inovalon has partnered with ANSR, a Bengaluru-based firm that helps companies build, manage and scale high-impact global teams, to set up the IDC in Hyderabad.

"The Inovalon ONE® Platform brings together solutions from across the technology ecosystem, and the Hyderabad center is uniquely positioned to help drive that collaboration. We expect to utilize the IDC to continue to increase the team by 15% in size to support growth in capabilities and collaboration," said Sanjay Kumar, Vice President, Technology, Inovalon, and head of the India Development Center.
