

Balaji further announced partnerships with Critical Care Hope, Panacea Medical Technologies and Karkinos. He highlighted, "The Critical Care Hope partnership aligns with the goal of GenWorks to provide connected care ecosystem for access to quality healthcare and will enable strengthening the critical care network across the country. The strategic partnership with Panacea Medical Technologies will ensure the availability of Make in India, state of the art radiotherapy equipment across the country. The strategic partnership with Karkinos is an important step for GenWorks to further advance the Oncology care offerings, especially in the Femtech segment."