Merago Inc. partners with Portea Medical to launch home healthcare services in India

12 September 2023 | News

Consumers in India now have access to the best of home health care services on the Merago Digital Health Network

Merago Inc., a healthcare, financial technology company headquartered in Mountain View, California, US has announced the addition of home healthcare services to its platform in India.

Merago has partnered with Portea Medical, Bengaluru-based outside of hospital healthcare provider, towards this end. The company had recently launched the Merago Digital Healthcare Network– an advanced personal healthcare management system for consumers.

Portea focuses on leveraging technology to innovate and provide patient-centric solutions including complex hospital-based procedures such as chemotherapy and dialysis at home. Through its technology driven services, the company effectively caters to the out-of-hospital healthcare needs of people. Since its inception, the company has successfully served more than 10,00,000+ patients across 40 cities in India.

Rashmee Narayan, COO Merago Inc., said, “Digital healthcare has gone way beyond teleconsultations. Consumers are expecting complete health management tools at their fingertips. Merago is focused on delivering this continuum of personal healthcare. Our services span the spectrum from urgent care to second opinion services. Post-operative care and home healthcare services from Portea complete the offerings.”

Vaibhav Tewari, Co-Founder and CEO, Portea Medical, said, “Merago brings the next generation in integrated health management, and we see Portea services seamlessly being part of the value chain. Their cutting-edge integrated health management aligns perfectly with our mission. Together, we are poised to enhance the continuum of care, making holistic and affordable medical services a reality for all our patients.”
