CSIR and AIIMS in New Delhi sign MoU for collaborative research in healthcare domain

22 December 2024 | News

Aimed at propelling medical research forward, and enhancing healthcare delivery

The Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), New Delhi and All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), New Delhi have signed an Memorandum of Understanding (MoU), aimed to provide a formal basis for initiating interaction between the two organisations to harness their respective strengths to advance medical research, enhance healthcare delivery, and tackle critical health challenges in India through the collaboration.

This strategic partnership marks a significant step forward in leveraging combined expertise and resources to address critical healthcare challenges and innovate solutions for improved patient outcomes.

During the event, under the Umbrella MoU between CSIR and AIIMS, another MoU was signed between CSIR’s Centre for Cellular & Molecular Biology (CSIR-CCMB), Hyderabad and AIIMS, New Delhi for focused research projects and to extend the use of facilities at CSIR-CCMB to AIIMS.

Through the MoU, CSIR and AIIMS strive to establish a synergistic partnership aimed at propelling medical research forward, enhancing healthcare delivery, and tackling pressing health challenges in India through joint research initiatives, knowledge sharing, innovation development, training and capacity building etc., leveraging the combined expertise of CSIR's scientific research and AIIMS's clinical insights. Joint development of new medical technologies, devices, and diagnostics are envisaged.

Both organisations are dedicated to promote ethical research practices and ensuring that all collaborative efforts are aligned with the highest standards of integrity and scientific rigor. The MoU sets the foundation for ongoing collaboration and is expected to yield valuable insights and advancements in the healthcare sector.
