Redcliffe Labs on-boards Dr Sonal Saxena to lead next phase of preventive diagnostics

18 March 2026 | News

With over 25 years of experience across quality, accreditations, and lab operations

In a strategic move to further strengthen its diagnostic excellence and quality standards, Redcliffe Labs has appointed Dr Sonal Saxena as Director – Lab Operations, effective immediately.

With this appointment, the responsibility of upholding and advancing trusted diagnostics across its nationwide network now comes under her leadership.

Dr Sonal will lead the brand's laboratory operations across India, driving excellence in technical processes, quality systems, and accreditation standards. Her role will be pivotal in strengthening Redcliffe Labs' commitment to delivering reliable, patient-centric diagnostics and scaling its operational footprint nationwide.

With over 25 years of distinguished experience in pathology and laboratory medicine, she brings deep expertise in clinical diagnostics, reference lab establishment, and operational leadership. She has previously held leadership roles at reputed organisations, including Dr. Lal Path Labs, Apollo Clinic, Alchemist Hospital, Diagno Labs, and other Labs.

A trained ISO 15189 assessor, Dr Sonal has been instrumental in achieving NABL, CAP, and ISO accreditations in her past assignments, reinforcing her reputation as a leader in laboratory quality and compliance.
