TAKE Solutions christens its lifesciences business as 'Navitas'

TAKE Solutions has announced the launch of Navitas, a pure-play lifesciences solutions company. The new entity brings together the teams of TAKE Life Sciences and WCI Consulting.

The capabilities of the new lifesciences arm of TAKE Solutions covers industry leading networks, strategic and change management consulting, technology and services which are focused on the Clinical, Regulatory, Safety and Compliance domains. The new pure-play Life Sciences solutions company will cater to clients ranging in size and complexity.

Mr Srinivasan H R, vice-chairman and managing director, TAKE Solutions and chairman, Navitas said, "There is a demand in the global Pharma/Lifesciences market for regulatory compliance and customized solutions to meet business needs. The total addressable market of the Lifescience industry is valued at $15.9 billion. Our move to create a new brand is to meet the demand of this market in time to emerge as a competent and differentiated player. We have seen immense positive growth in this segment with our solutions in this space resonating well with customers. Our plan is to capitalise on it, gear upto meet the changing business environments and compete with industry leaders".
