BioSpect
the business of Bi
24 years of leveraging the business of Bio
www.biospectrumindia.co

UBM India organizing Medtec India 2013

23 August 2013 | News | By BioSpectrum Bureau

UBM India organizing Medtec India 2013

Medtec India will offer a great opportunity for medical device manufacturing companies to network with new manufacturers.

The conference will aim to discuss real life challenges with the regulatory, government and healthcare practitioners along with focused discussions on quality, standardization and compliance in the developing Indian industry.

The event will also offer choice of specific modules to delegates of:
- Consumables, surgicals and disposables
- Diagnostics, medical electronics and imaging
- In-vitro diagnostics and
- Implants, prosthesis and orthopaedics.

"Medtec India returns this year stronger and more enriched than ever before, with a totally revamped format, including a thought-provoking conference, offering an invaluable networking experience for the Indian and International leaders from the manufacturing industry, machinery and equipment suppliers, regulators and healthcare practitioners," said Joji George, MD, UBM India Pvt Ltd.

The event is planned to take place in Mumbai, which has a strong local presence of high technology medical device and healthcare manufactures, and also is within easy traveling distance of Gujarat region, a key hub of investment for medical companies in India.At Medtec India, participants are at the centre of the industry and community, who bring latest solutions, the most important innovators and influencers, and the most comprehensive programmes of conferences and continuing education.

Â

UBM India is a trade exhibition organizer in India responsible for over 20Â exhibitions across the globe.

Â